

14. EARTH, HEART, AND ART

To protect the Earth,
We must use the Heart.
Not the mind.

But how?

There is a clue
In the words 'Earth'
and 'Heart'.
Both words contain the word
Art.

Science and law speaks to the mind
and give the direction
Art speaks to the heart
and sparks the fire for action.

When you change the mind,
It can change tomorrow.
When you change the heart,
It is forever.

To test this theory of the words and the world, the Art Center for the Earth is being put up in the white sands shores of an island somewhere in the central seas of Perlas.

Pictures of children with their paintings, and caption. Also of the soft inauguration of the Art Center.

It is our hope that the modest beginnings of an Art Center for the Earth, possibly the only one of its kind in the world, will one day blossom as a venue for local artists to display their works. It will also be a humble hall for the performing arts, a library, and a room for an artist in residence, and an office with a view of this ...
